6.27 RISK FACTORS

The value of an investment in the Fund as well as the amount of return received on the investment may fluctuate significantly from day to day and over time. The fund manager shall adopt prudent investment guidelines and shall ensure that a robust risk management framework is integrated into every aspect of the Fund's investment process. The under-listed are the principal risks of investing in the Fund.

i) Market Risk: Market risk is the risk of losses arising from movement in market prices. This movement could lead to either unrealized gains or losses. The Fund Manager may use different strategies to achieve its goal of absolute returns to investors, but in general, there is no guarantee that these strategies will not result in unrealized losses in volatile or declining markets.

Investors must be prepared to bear the risk of loss and volatility associated with the underlying investments in which the Fund will invest.

A Fund that holds all assets to maturity is immune from market risk, but global best practice requires that fixed income biased Funds be marked to market daily (fair value), which is a practice the Fund Manager will adopt.

ii) Regulatory Risk: The Fund is subject to various forms of regulations. These regulations may have adverse effects on the Fund. The CBN may from time to time, issue new regulations and guidelines which may have a direct or indirect impact on securities in which the Fund will invest. Additionally, regulators such as the SEC may from time to time, issue circulars that may also impact the Fund's performance.

These regulations may inadvertently lead to a higher cost impact on the Fund. This risk may arise from a possible breach of regulatory guidelines or requirements. There is also the risk that possible amendments to the local legislation (including tax legislation), may cause additional expenses for the Fund.

iii) Inflation Risk: This is the risk that an increase in price levels shall undermine the purchasing power of the Fund's value of investment and returns.

iv.) Shariah Compliance Risk: Islamic finance is still an emerging and developing field. There are few scholars knowledgeable in this field and sometimes there is no consensus on issues relating to the suitability of certain investment vehicles. The Fund Manager will undertake the investment activities of the Fund in accordance with Shariah investment principles. Consequently, this may mean that the performance of a Fund may be lower than other investment Funds that do not seek to strictly adhere to Shariah investment principles.

The Shariah principles may require in certain circumstances for the Fund to dispose of certain investments and also may prohibit the investment into well-performing securities due to non-compliance to Shariah. These requirements may place the Fund at a relatively less advantageous position compared to other investment funds that do not have to adhere to the Shariah principles.

Although the Fund Manager intends to observe Shariah principles at all times, no assurance can be given that this will always be possible, as there may be circumstances when an investment may accidentally become non-compliant with Shariah principles due to factors that are outside the control of the Fund manager. Any Shariah related matter shall be reported to Advisory Council of Experts to confirm whether it is actual Shariah noncompliance or not.

6.28 RISK MANAGEMENT STRATEGY

The Fund Manager shall adopt a robust risk management framework and shall ensure that the risk factors mentioned above are monitored regularly to minimize the potential effects on the Fund's value. The under-listed elements of the Risk Management Framework shall be put in place by the Fund Manager:

The Fund Manager shall from time-to-time stress test the portfolio using various simulation scenarios to show any potential risk that could impact on the Fund. The result of the test shall be reported to the investment committee.

The Fund Manager shall also stress test the portfolio regularly by simulating various scenarios of the potential impact of the principal risk factors on the Fund. The result of the test shall be reported to the investment committee of the Fund.

The investment committee shall seek the approval of the shariah advisory council for investment in Sukuks, Shariah-compliant fixed income securities and investment products to ensure proper management of risk of Shari'ah non-compliance.

6.29 INVESTMENT COMMITTEE

The Investment Committee shall be responsible for reviewing the performance of the Fund quarterly, and shall have responsibilities which include but not limited to:

1. Oversight of the Fund's investment management activities.
2. Ensuring adherence to the Fund's investment policy as set out in the Trust Deed and other statutory regulations.
